

The background is a dark blue night sky with small white stars and a small black bat silhouette in the upper right. The central figure is a witch, shown from the waist down. She wears a large, black, pointed, bell-shaped skirt with a scalloped hem and long, thin, black, curled-up legs. Her legs are wearing green and white horizontally striped socks and black shoes with white soles. A blue square patch with a red virus icon and the text 'NOI TRUCCO DI SIA' is pinned to the front of her skirt. The title and authors' names are written in a red, hand-drawn, blocky font.
